"MICCAI Grand Challenge on MR Brain Image Segmentation 2013"

The MRBrainS13 challenge is organized in the spirit of cooperative scientific progress. We do not claim any ownership or rights to the algorithms but we require everyone to respect the "Terms of Participation" below. The following terms apply to those who register a team and/or download the data:

- The downloaded data sets, associated reference standard, or any data derived from these data sets, may not be given or redistributed under any circumstances to persons not belonging to the registered team.

- All information entered when registering a team, including the name of the contact person, the affiliation (institute, organization or company the team's contact person works for) and the e-mail address must be complete and correct. In other words, anonymous registration is not allowed. The data provided will not be used for any purposes other than the MRBrainS13 competition.

- Downloaded MRBrainS13 data may only be used for the purpose of preparing an entry to be submitted on the MRBrainS13 website. The data may not be used for other purposes in scientific studies and may not be used to train or develop other algorithms, including but not limited to algorithms used in commercial products.

- Results of your submission will only be published on the website when a document (e.g., a scientific paper) describing the method is provided. Please e-mail this document (or a link to it) to the organizers if you want your results to be published.

- For commercial systems, no method description is required, but the system has to be publicly available and the exact name and version number have to be provided.

- The organizers of the challenge will check the method description before your results will be published on the website.

- If the results of algorithms in this challenge are to be used in scientific publications (journal publications, conference papers, technical reports, presentations at conferences and meetings) you must make an appropriate citation. Currently, this citation will refer to the MRBrainS13 website (http://mrbrains13.isi.uu.nl), and later to the journal publication that will describe the results of this challenge.

- Evaluation of the segmentation results uploaded to the MRBrainS13 website will be made publicly available on the MRBrainS13 website (Results section). By submitting your results, you grant us permission to publish our evaluation. Participating teams maintain full ownership and rights of their method.

- Teams must notify the organizers of MRBrainS13 about any publication that is (partly) based on the results data published on this site, in order for us to maintain a list of publications associated with the challenge.
